

Hi,

January 11, 1966

I sent one of these things to Ozzie last week. It's a drive yourself crazy all alone solitaire checkers game. Jump like in checkers, removing the one you jump. Jump in any direction, straight lines of course. The object is to wind up the game with only one peg on the board. If you get the game leaving one corner hole open to begin with, then try leaving a center hole open at the start. Changes the game entirely. Okay begin!

Well, I'm a regular at The P.D. since the 1st of Jan. I've been working 3:30 to midnite since then. So now I have about 9 weeks of vacation I could take this year. I have about 4 weeks left over from last year.

This spring I'll take a week off to go fishing in Canada. This one particular lake has northerners in it that take your lure and go & never stop. You need piano wire for a line and lake hooks to put the lures ^{bait} on. This one guy absolutely claims there are fish in there that can't be caught or rather landed with bait & tackle. Must find out about this place myself. Sure will take along a camera, and lots of very stout line.

We had a real nice Christmas & had the Sat & Sunday off both weekends over the holidays.

We're burning quite a bit of wood in the barrel stove in the basement. I'm sure it's saving quite a bit on the fuel bill.

We bought a real cheapy of a snow blower. It's a 3 H.P.

only one speed forward, unless I disengage the drive and push it myself. Sure have kept the driveway clear.

Jean is coming along fine, all healed up and has started driving the car again too. What a bill we ran up. The total is at least $1116. Sure would hate to run into that without hospitalization. She was in the hospital just 13 days for a total bill there of $767.
All I'm paying is $450 for the phone I hope.

Last week got busy and made some shelf space above the stair well. We've got about 45 sq. ft of space in 4 shelves there. Good spot for lots of junk.

I got the living room floor tiled while Jean was in the hosp.

Its a very light color so it shows the heel marks, color crayon marks etc. But its much cleaner.

Well, must get on the ball now, mail this & get to work. So long

All our love

Clarence Jean &
Kids.
